About the Book

Courage and Conviction: Ethical Dilemmas, Decision-Making, and Resolutions discusses the nature of ethical dilemmas, moral reasoning and what it takes for effective decision-making when faced with an ethical dilemma. It provides a step-by-step resolution framework and a tactical approach for the handling of an ethical dilemma. According to the author, Lim Soo Ping, former Auditor-General of Singapore, "Through each ethical decision that we make despite the consequences, we strengthen our own character. Through each moral action that we take with courage and conviction, we make life better for others. When we add it all up over a lifetime, we would have helped create a more resilient and caring society for our children ... and their generation."
