Competition Guidelines

9) How does this competition work?

You will need to select a real-world company for your case-study. As part of the Internal Audit team, you will be tasked with assessing the company's governance, risk management and internal controls to identify issues, and provide recommendations to potentially correct and mitigate those issues through practical and impactful solutions.

10) What is the expected format of the proposal?

All teams will be required to submit their presentation deck (PDF) and video presentation online to the email at events@iia.org.sg. The presentation deck should consist of not more than 10 slides, and the presentation recording should not be more than 10 minutes.

11) Do the cover slide, executive summary, and thank you slide count towards the 10-slide limit?

The cover slide and thank you slide will not be counted as part of the 10-slide limit. However, the executive summary will be included in the slide count.

12) Will case study materials be provided, or are participants expected to select real-life cases available online?

Case study materials are not provided, but there is flexibility to select or develop a case study. Please refer to the Case Study Guidance.

Selection of the Finalists

13) When and where will the finals take place?

Successful teams will advance to the finals, where they will deliver a 30 minute in-person presentation, judged by distinguished industry experts, followed by a Q&A session. The finals will take place on 21 May 2027.

14) What is the prize for the winners?

The total cash prize of S$7,000 will be distributed with S$3,000 for 1st place, S$2,000 for 2nd place, S$1,000 for 3rd place, and S$500 each for two merit prizes.
