

2021 December Issue of IA Magazine

Now Available for Download!

Dear Member,

The December issue of Internal Auditor magazine looks at the future of internal auditing as The IIA turns 80. Articles focus on the evolution of talent management in the new work environment and findings from the 2022 OnRisk report. In the cover story, "The IIA at 80," several thought leaders seek to define internal auditing in a post-Covid-19 world. A related feature, "The New Normal of Talent Management," explains why internal audit faces intense competition to hire and retain practitioners with the skills needed to meet changing stakeholder expectations.

The December edition's departments include articles on internal investigations, risk of fraud in churches, vendor management, and greening grammar. In addition, readers will learn about "Embracing Change," as The IIA celebrates its 80th anniversary and The Institute and Internal Auditor magazine prepare for transformation in 2022.
